To Whom It May Concern

I'm writing this letter in support of Ashley Scott. Ms. Scott has been volunteering at Agnes Taylor Public School for over one year. She is a professional and hard-working individual who has greatly enriched the Agnes Taylor community. Her warm and caring demeanour and excellent communication skills have allowed her to develop an excellent rapport with both students and staff.

Ms. Scott has regularly volunteered in both a Grade 1 and Grade 2 classroom. The students in these classes were at a variety of different levels and several displayed challenging behaviours. Ms. Scott worked effectively with all the children and supported the classroom program by differentiating the lessons and circulating the room to work with small groups and individual students. Her excellent use of questions to probe their understanding and build their confidence in their own learning was part of an impressive repertoire of strategies that she used to support the classroom program. Ms. Scott also effectively used technology to further differentiate lessons and provide students with opportunities to show their thinking.

Ms. Scott is a gifted educator and excellent team player. She would be an asset to any school board and a valued member of any learning community. Please contact me if you have any questions.

Sincerely,

David Yaciuk
